Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C.

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 61, 63-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With regards to claims 61, 65, 67, 69, 71, 73 the use of the phrase "a ...set of one or more values..." in lines 9-14 is vague and indefinite because a set must contain more than one value i.e. two or more values.

Claim 63 recites the limitation "the first plurality of values" in lines 3-4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hiscock et al.(6,195,351).

With regards to claim 1 Hiscock teaches a switching module for a data communication switch having a plurality of modules interconnected over a backplane(Fig. 1) comprising:

A first port for receiving packet data including a source address and a destination address(col. 1 line 60 mentions MAC source addresses, hence the switch in Fig. 1 must receive Ethernet frames containing MAC source and destination addresses), means for checking whether a source association between the address and the first port has been made(this is inherently taught because the switch in fig. 1 is capable of learning MAC source addresses, address learning is preformed if there is a change in state or parameters, col. 1 lines 56-61. In order to determine if source learning is necessary the switch has to determine if an association between the address and the port has been made by checking the forwarding table), means for making the source association(learning MAC source addresses) and providing source association information to the other switching modules(sharing source address changes with other switched col. 1 lines 56-61).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 61, 63-73 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
